AKDO®

AKDO is a company built on a foundation of love, family and dedication. Over 30 years ago, our CEO, Hakki Akbulak decided to start a business with his brother. As a natural born entrepreneur, Hakki asked himself, “what does Turkey have that America needs?” The answer, in short, was this: beautiful, abundant, natural stone.

AKDO has since grown to become one of the world’s most renowned brands of luxury tile and stone and considered among the most dependable resources by the A&D community. Sustaining value relationships with highly respected Architects, Designers, Developers and Builders around the world, AKDO has had the honor of collaborating with renowned firms, in consultation and in the supply of the most high-profile projects that span the globe.
